All goals that we advise have been proven by our latest findings from our scientists and research experts.

A goal is something you want to achieve in the upcoming days/weeks/months. You can set the time frame and the series you want to achieve something. You will be able to add a specific goal, e.g. a number of steps you want to reach every day. Every goal needs an icon.

After you added a goal, it will appear in your goals screen. You can see the status and the current achievement and streak right next to being able to download a calendar notification for each goal (see Screenshot 2.3). Calendar dates should be according to the time series and should include the information of What, When and How.
